

Starting January 4th 2010 I will be offering private lessons for beginning, intermediate, and advanced oil painting for teens and adults at my studio! If you are just starting out in oils, are feeling rusty, in need of portfolio pieces or in need of one-on-one instruction from life, this is for you.

I'd like to try and teach the way in which I wish someone had taught me. The basics, the structure, and "my" rules of painting, but once those basics are learned I want to fully encourage students to break those rules and do what feels good to them. That's how individual style is made; applying a DIY mentality, as I believe there is no one right way of painting. In oil paint on gessoed canvas, students will learn composition, and refined glazing and layering techniques to render subtle effects of light. We will be working from photo references as well as still life set-ups, but lessons will be tailored for each person and their skill level.

Fees: Lessons are 3 sessions at 2 hours each (or 2 sessions at 3 hours) and scheduled at your convenience both during the week and weekends. A supply list of brushes and oil colors needed will be provided. Payment is due 3 days before the first lesson by check or PayPal:

$90 Beginning

$90 Intermediate

$90 Advanced

$250 Beginning thru Advanced package.
